

PUBLIC LECTURE BY DR. CAROLINE WALKER BYNUM

March 8, 2016

4:30-6:00pm

1590 Dr. Penfield

(Atrium)

This event is sponsored by Concordia Religion Department's Women, Gender, and Sexuality seminar and the Office of the Vice-President, Research and Graduate Studies, Concordia University

HOLY BEDS AND HOLY FAMILIES: DEVOTIONAL OBJECTS IN NEW YORK'S METROPOLITAN MUSEUM

Professor Bynum is Professor emerita of Medieval European History at the Institute for Advanced Study at Princeton, and University Professor emerita at Columbia University in the City of New York. Her recent work, in Wonderful Blood (University of Pennsylvania Press, 2007) and in Christian Materiality (Zone Books, 2011), is a radical reinterpretation of the nature of Christianity on the eve of the reformations of the sixteenth century.